Kyle Wege

Owner/Photographer/Director

Crimson Sun Studios provides architectural photography and other creative content to help you and your business stand out. Through industry-leading production practices, thoughtful image composition, to high-end post-production editing, your content will help you reach your marketing goals, raise your perceived value, achieve separation from your competition, and deliver your message with stunning clarity. For those who can't travel to see your work, make sure you bring your work to them in the best way possible.

CSS is owned and operated by Kyle Wege, AIAP. Kyle has a long relationship with photography and content creation, starting as a young child photographing the world around him on a Nikon FM10. From there, Kyle's passion grew as he taught himself creative production techniques and became intimately skilled in photoshop and digital post-production. His love of architecture deepened with exposure to conscientious design and craftsmanship brought to life by the amazing clients he has worked with.
